Vineyard Sources: This is the 8th vintage of Frostwatch Pinot Noir. Our entire two and one-half acres of Pinot Noir are planted to a selection of the Swan Clone on two rootstocks with two different spacings. The Swan Clone typically produces small clusters and small berries which has certainly held true in our experience. Furthermore, it is commonly believed that large diurnal temperature fluctuations have a positive correlation with Pinot Noir grape quality. Our vineyard experiences very cool nighttime temperatures throughout the summer. Accordingly, our site is well suited climatologically to the cultivation of Pinot Noir. Generally speaking, the Bennett Valley Appellation is also distinguished by its very long growing season, modest yields relative to other areas and full-flavored wines with good natural acidity.

Winemaking: The grapes were picked at night and sorted, de-stemmed, but not crushed. The grape must was punched down daily and the headspace above the must was gassed with CO₂ after each punch down. After 10 days, the must gradually warmed to about 56 degrees F and the indigenous fermentation began in each lot. The fermentation temperature was controlled to a maximum of 82 degrees F and the must was punched down twice daily. Twenty-two days after harvest, the primary fermentation was done on the House Block and the must was drained and gently pressed with a hydraulic basket press. Eighteen days after harvest, the Barn Block lot was drained and pressed like its sister lot. The wines were moved to a 33% new, 50% once used and 17% neutral French oak barrels. These barrels were stirred and topped weekly as the wine went through an indigenous malolactic fermentation that finished on January 7, 2017 and was then SO₂'d. After being SO₂'d, the wine was stirred and topped on a monthly basis until it was racked a few days prior to bottling (un-fined and unfiltered) on 5/14/18 (about 18 months in oak).

Tasting Notes: The 2016 vintage is yet another fine vintage in Bennett Valley. The wine displays power and mid-palate density and richness yet exhibits the delicacy one expects in excellent Pinot Noir. It supplies red cherry and plum flavors and shows good structure that promises additional development. Indeed, this wine will only improve with additional time in the bottle.
